Bingo activity guide

1. Each square on your bingo card is one of these activities.
2. Read the one you picked, gather what you need, and do it together.

Polar bear cave

Time: 30 min · You need: Blankets, a table, a flashlight, stuffed animals

Drape blankets over a table to make a den. Crawl in with flashlights and read bedtime stories to the stuffed animals before they hibernate.

Tip: Leave one side open so the cave never feels too closed in.

Hot cocoa café

Time: 30 min · You need: Mugs, cocoa, a paper menu, play money

Your child runs the café: they take your order, add the marshmallows and ring you up. You tip in high fives.

Tip: A picture menu makes ordering easy for kids who aren't reading yet.

Penguin yoga

Time: 10 min · You need: A little floor space

Waddle like a penguin, stretch tall like a snowy pine, curl up small like a sleeping seal, then flop like a melting snowman.

Tip: Show a picture of each pose first, and do them together.

Sock snowball fight

Time: 15 min · You need: Rolled-up socks, couch cushions

Build two cushion forts, split the sock snowballs, and let them fly. Nobody gets cold and nobody gets wet.

Tip: Agree on a stop word before the first throw.

Penguin waddle race

Time: 10 min · You need: A ball or a beanbag

Squeeze a ball between your knees and waddle to the finish line. Drop it and you waddle back to the start.

Tip: Start with a big, squishy ball. It's much easier to hold.

Sock skating rink

Time: 15 min · You need: Fuzzy socks, a smooth floor, music

Turn the kitchen into an ice rink. Skate to music, add a twirl and a pose, and hold up scorecards for each routine.

Tip: Hold hands for the first lap, and clear the floor of toys.

Freeze dance blizzard

Time: 10 min · You need: Music

Dance while the music plays. When it stops, freeze like an ice sculpture. The first one to thaw picks the next song.

Tip: Give a heads-up before each stop: "Freezing in 3, 2, 1."

Frozen dino rescue

Time: 30 min, plus freezing overnight · You need: Small toys, a container, water, droppers or spoons, salt

Freeze toys in a container of water overnight. In the morning, rescue them with warm water, spoons and a sprinkle of salt.

Tip: Use bigger toys for little ones, and set out a towel before you start.

Melt race

Time: 20 min · You need: Ice cubes, small plates

Set ice cubes in different spots: a sunny window, the fridge, a mitten, a hand. Guess which melts first, then check every five minutes.

Tip: Draw everyone's guess so the winner is easy to see.

Fizzy snow

Time: 15 min · You need: Baking soda, water, vinegar, food coloring, a tray

Mix baking soda with a splash of water until it packs like snow. Build a tiny snowman, then drip colored vinegar on him and watch him fizz.

Tip: Sunglasses as lab goggles make it feel like real science.

Paper snowflakes

Time: 20 min · You need: Paper, kid-safe scissors, tape

Fold paper into a triangle three times, snip shapes along the edges, and unfold. Tape a whole blizzard to the window.

Tip: Try our snowflake studio on the Cozy Break Kit page first, then cut the real thing.

Marshmallow igloo

Time: 20 min · You need: Marshmallows, frosting, a paper plate

Build an igloo one marshmallow brick at a time, using frosting as glue. Eat one brick for every row you finish.

Tip: Big marshmallows are easier for small hands than mini ones.

Puffy paint snow

Time: 20 min · You need: Shaving cream, white glue, paper

Mix equal parts shaving cream and white glue to make puffy paint. Paint snowmen and snowdrifts that dry soft and fluffy.

Tip: If the texture is a lot, a paintbrush or craft stick works great.

Pinecone bird feeder

Time: 20 min · You need: Pinecones, sunflower butter, birdseed, string

Spread sunflower butter on a pinecone, roll it in birdseed and hang it in a tree. Then spy on the visitors from the window.

Tip: Use a spoon if sticky fingers are a no.

Arctic explorer hunt

Time: 20 min · You need: A bag and a list

Find something white, something sparkly, something crunchy and something that used to be alive. Bring the treasures home for a living-room museum.

Tip: A picture list lets non-readers lead the hunt.

Lights tour

Time: 30 min · You need: A car or a stroller, cocoa in a thermos

Head out just after dark with pajamas on and cocoa in hand. Give every street a score out of ten.

Tip: Bring headphones in case a street is busy or loud.

Grown-ups: any version counts. If an activity isn't a good fit today, swap in something your child loves and color the square anyway.
